

Year Three

PSHE

(including RHE)

Curriculum

PORTER CROFT
Church of England Primary Academy

Here at Porter Croft, PSHE (personal, social, health and economic) education is a school curriculum subject through which children and young people acquire knowledge and skills to stay safe, be healthy (physical and mentally) and prepared for life, and work, in the modern world. Each PSHE unit is delivered over a series of lessons every half term, PSHE lessons are also where pupils will receive the statutory RHE (relationship and health education) content.

As a parent/carer you play a vital role in their personal and social development. Therefore, PSHE education should always be a partnership between schools and parents/carers. This guide will support you to contribute to your child's education outside of school.

The PSHE curriculum is organised into three themes: 'health and wellbeing'; 'relationships', and 'living in the wider world' (which focusses on careers, media literacy and economic wellbeing). Topics in lessons include age-appropriate teaching about healthy lifestyles (e.g. diet, fitness and maintaining good mental health); relationships, including friendships and families; personal safety (including online); growing and changing; study skills; media literacy and digital resilience (including how to recognise fake news); managing risk and personal safety; money, careers and preparing for the world of work.

In addition to the PSHE curriculum, we also use Project EVOLVE (a national online safety scheme of work) to supplement pupils' knowledge and skills and ensure pupils are equipped to keep themselves safe online. Project EVOLVE toolkit is based on the UKCIS framework "Education for a Connected World" (EFACW). This framework covers knowledge, skills, behaviours and attitudes across eight strands of our online lives.

To enhance PSHE curriculum learning, promote inclusive education and community cohesion, each half term we also use 'No Outsiders' books. 'No Outsiders' is a scheme which uses stories to prompt discussion around diversity and inclusive education which can help prepare young people for life as global citizens.

As part of our work to provide an inclusive and diverse curriculum, we have implemented Andrew Moffat's 'No Outsiders' scheme of work. Using a different picture book each half term, the children look at Protected Characteristics such as disability, race, gender, age and faith. The Protected Characteristics are nine personal characteristics or situations that cannot be used as a reason to discriminate against someone according to law. The vision of the project is to develop our pupils as inclusive, global citizens. All books are age appropriate and many of the books for the project are already part of our curriculum

The information in this booklet includes details of what is covered and an outline of the planned curriculum for each year group. This will give you an overview of what your child is being taught, and what is considered age-appropriate for them to be learning.
